Green & Boedeker to Open New Store Friday Morning

The big event of the month along Commercial Row will be the re-opening of the Green & Boedeker stores on Friday morning, July 28, in the old location across from the post office.

Fire destroyed the stocks of the firm on May 12 and the store was re-opened at the present location. Work has been completed on remodeling the building, badly damaged by the fire. New stocks have been purchased and new fixtures and merchandise throughout will be ready for the public on Friday morning at 7 o'clock, July 28.

Leland Green, Jr., who directs the food store and Herman Boedeker now in charge of their store in Caldwell began this business several years ago in the Werner building in Santa Fe town and from this beginning has developed one of the largest merchandising firms in Central Texas.

In remodeling the building a number of modern features have been incorporated both as to arrangement and to give better efficiency in accommodating the customers. In the interior of the building before the fire on May 12, the market was located near the center of the food store. Under the new plan the market will be located near the west wall, the old partition being removed.

The interior of the building has been finished throughout with special composition material beautifully decorated and paneled. The hardware and furniture store will be separated from the food department as was true under the old arrangement.

Offices have been built in on an elevation near the west wall of the furniture and hardware store and beneath this space are special storage capacities to be used for surplus stocks. All fixtures in the store have been re-built, are new and painted in rich colors. Of especial interest in the new store is the fact that the north wall windows have been closed in with brick and a large glass window has been built in on the north side and a door entering the food store has been built in.

The right front of the food store has been enclosed in glass with the exception of a small door near the corner. There is also a separate entrance to the furniture and hardware stores and new stairways have been built leading to the furniture display rooms above. By these arrangements the fire hazard has been considerably lessened and this large merchandising establishment will be ready to serve the people of this section better than at any time since it was established.

All merchandise in this store is new. In addition to a new and modern market, the store will have fresh pit barbecue with added recipes for a new service in food. The prices advertised for the opening on Friday morning are good until Tuesday, August 8.

Refreshments will be served and factory representatives will be on hand to give away merchandise all day Saturday, July 29. Bargains for the opening are universal in this store in all departments including furniture and hardware as well as food.

It will be a triumphant event in the lives of these young businessmen when they open their dream store on Friday morning. Citizens throughout the community and over the trade territory were preparing to pay these young men a tribute by attending the opening sale and congratulating them personally in their new store on their progress and the quality of service they have rendered the people.

"Only Angels Have Wings," Sunday and Monday Picture at Cameron Theatre May Be Film Which Will Determine Academy Award For Year 1939

One year of preparation and three months of filming represented time well spent, according to the enthusiastic reception given Columbia's Howard Hawks production, "Only Angels Have Wings," wherever it has been shown. The film, which stars Cary Grant and Jean Arthur together for the first time, opens Sunday at the Cameron Theatre. Also in the cast are Thomas Mitchell, Rita Hayworth and Richard Barthelmess, who is said to make a splendid screen comeback after an absence of more than three years.

"Only Angels Have Wings," has been hailed not only as a great film, but as an outstanding example of what may be done by the film industry when every phase of production, casting and story combine to provide perfect entertainment.

Columbia is particularly proud of one of the most pretentious presentations of the season. Lavish sets; awe-inspiring, pulse-quivering views scenic grandeur; spectacular sequences, all represent extraordinary expenditures on the part of the company.

"Only Angels Have Wings" begins with the arrival of a showgirl at (Turn to page 5)

Culligan Facing Five Charges to Defraud By Worthless Checks

A. P. Culligan, arrested here last Tuesday shortly after City Marshal Gene Smith had issued a warning that he was wanted for passing hot checks, has against him five cases of swindling with worthless checks.

Under the new law which became effective on June 22, this offense carries a jail sentence regardless of the amount involved in the check. This law also provides that anyone who files a complaint with the district or county attorney for this offense and later requests that prosecution be dismissed is himself guilty of offense and shall be fined not exceeding $500.

Chamber Commerce Will Not Enter The Central Texas Body

Cameron Chamber of Commerce will not become a member of the Central Texas organization. The decision was made last night when the Chamber of Commerce had its meeting. The budget had been lowered from $30,000 to $20,000 with the proportionate part for the local organization being over $500 a year.

F. E. Woodruff, president said it was generally felt among the directors that the budget is in excess of their ability to pay and also the reduced budget proposed would not support activity of a desirable character for a regional Chamber of Commerce and that it would therefore be better for Milam county to remain a part of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce.

DISPUTE OVER WAGES

John McLerran, Jr., and Tom Baker were fined in justice court here for fighting Tuesday afternoon. The fight arose over a misunderstanding over a sum of money Baker claimed McLerran owed him for labor. Mr. McLerran later withdrew his plea of guilt to fighting.

Typhus Fever Is Potential Menace to Cameron As Rats Increase; Dr. Newton Tells About Dangers To Citizens, Asks for Extermination Campaign

Cameron is facing a potential typhus fever epidemic and each year an increased number of cases are reported, said Dr. W. R. Newton county health officer and member of the Cameron Rotary club, in an address at the noon luncheon Wednesday.

Dr. Newton explained that typhus fever varies in degree of severity, the condition of the patient depending upon the strength of the infection. There is no specific treatment for typhus. Rats are the source of infection and the health officer said that it is imperative that the city of Cameron and the suburbs begin an extermination campaign at once.

There is no certainty that a general epidemic will ensue but the presence of hordes of rats in the business district as well as residential districts, gives cause for alarm and in all probability the city could ward off a disease epidemic of this nature by taking immediate action at a very small cost to rid the city of rodents.

Dr. Newton was introduced by Dr. Swift, vice president of the club, and the program was arranged by P. W. Davis, chairman of program committee. In the outset Dr. Newton talked a few minutes on the trials and tribulations of the country doctor, getting a little humor into his discourse. He told Rotarians and guests about his recent research work which led to discovery of carriers of the sleeping sickness germ. The State Health Department at first did not believe sleeping sickness was

Former Constable Is Charged In Justice Court In Cameron

Keith Blankenship, former Constable at Buckholts, was arrested Wednesday by Sheriff R. M. Kennedy and Deputy Clarence McCall but was not placed in jail. He was charged with disturbing the peace, assault and battery.

According to officers here Blankenship and Ford Cosby became involved in a fist fight. Later Blankenship approached Elmar Horstmann, constable who defeated Blankenship in 1938, and words followed. Horstmann made a move to place Blankenship under arrest and struck Blankenship with a pistol. Justice of Peace D. R. Criswell, sitting nearby in a chair, prevented any further trouble when he walked between the men and asked Blankenship to return to his Barber Shop.

Charges were filed in the court of Justice Womack Brashear in Cameron. Judge Criswell is related to Blankenship.

Hits Woman With Pistol; Facing Charge Of Aggravated Assault

PAUL HEINTZE BURIED AT SHARP TUESDAY

Funeral services for Paul Heintze, 66, were held Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock from the family residence in Cameron with Rev. A. J. McCary, pastor First Methodist Church, delivering the funeral sermon.

The aged man died suddenly Sunday evening at 9 o'clock while waiting on a customer at his store in Cameron. His physician said he suffered a heart attack. His wife was attending a church service at the time of his death and was alone in his store. Mr. Heintze had recently been seriously ill and was a patient in the Cameron hospital for several weeks where his condition was grave. His health had improved in the last few weeks and he was able to be at his work again.

Mr. Heintze was born in Berlin, Germany, June 10, 1874. He came to the United States with his parents in 1882, where they settled in Austin county. In 1897, they moved to Milam county where they settled at Sharp. In 1901, he married Miss Ella Fuchs and to this union three children were born, one of whom died in infancy. His wife preceded him in death on July 15, 1929. In 1931, he moved to Cameron where he later married Mrs. Lula Greenless.

Mr. Heintze is survived by his widow, two children, Fritz Heintze and Mrs. Jennie Galler of Cameron, and six step children, Mrs. W. D. Maples of Mission, Mrs. Dan Luckey of Rockdale, Clyde, Harry and Hubert Greenless of Cameron and Albert Greenless of Taylor; one brother, Albert Heintze and family of Sharp.

Pall bearers were Albert Rinn, Ernest Rinn, Ernst Denker, Otto Denker, Geo. C. Laffere and C. F. Laffere. Honorary pall bearers were H. G. Chamberlain, Bill Alex Bonds, J. W. Wilson, J. P. Moseley, Ed Schmidt, Harry Tag, Robert McLane, J. S. Bragg, Wiley Mangum, Jeff T. Kemp, E. H. Coffield, Ben Boedeker, R. L. Batte, Sr., Dr. W. R. Newton and A. J. Becker of Taylor.

New Farmall Tractor Has "Culti-Vision" To Be Shown Here In The Near Future

"I couldn't believe it until I saw it," said Raymond Haigh who has just attended a preview of the new Farmall-A tractor, held at Houston, by the International Harvester Co.

"This latest rubber-tired addition to the Farmall line," continued Mr. Haigh, "which sells for a few new low Farmall price, brings the grower of row crops something he has never had before—full vision of the work that is being done directly under the tractor. Just as television brings the radio listener something he has never been able to see, so the Farmall-A enables the man who is cultivating corn or other row crops to see what he is doing without having to crane his neck or twist his body.

It's all in the design of the tractor," said Mr. Haigh. "The engine is cleverly placed so it does not obstruct the view of the rows. The driver rides easily in a comfortable sponge-rubber upholstered seat and watches the cultivator shovel at the same close range that is possible on a horse-drawn riding cultivator.

"It's surprising," Mr. Haigh said further, "how much more power and low-cost service have been built into the new Farmall-A. It will bring (Turn to page 4)

Shirley Temple is Headliner on Cameron Screen Bill Here Thursday and Friday

A thousand savage redmen sweep down on the Mounties' lonely outpost! A gallant garrison fights against overwhelming odds! A lone woman finds love amid peril on a primitive frontier!

Believe it or not—this is what happens in Shirley Temple's latest 20th Century-Fox picture, "Susannah of the Mounties"! The famous story of the old Northwest is a thrilling vehicle for the Number One star and it was selected by Production Chief Darryl F. Zanuck as a counterpoint to the fantasy of her last hit, "The Little Princess."

Garbed in calico and buckskin, Shirley Temple's is a real dramatic role different from anything she has done previously on the screen. Randolph Scott and Margaret Lockwood, the lovely star of "The Lady Vanishes," are featured in the romantic leads, while others in the large cast are Martin Good Rider, 13 year old Blackfeet discovery who makes his debut in the film, J. Farrell MacDonald, Maurice Moscovitch, Moroni Olsen, Victor Jory and Lester Matthews.

William A. Seiter directed "Susannah of the Mounties," which opens Thursday at the Cameron Theatre. Shirley, the sole survivor of an Indian massacre, is adopted by Randolph Scott of the Mounties. The famous Police are trying to protect the construction of the great new railway from interference by the Indians.

Scott teaches the child a wonderful lesson in courage which bears her bravely through days of terrible danger.

Kenneth MacGowan served as associate producer for the screen play written by Robert Ellis and Helen Logan, from the story by Fidel La Barba and Walter Ferris, based on the book by Muriel Denson.

Fay Bainter Brings Screen Triumph to Cameron Theatre on August 1 and 2

Fay Bainter, brilliant stage star, makes her first screen appearance since winning a recent Motion Picture Academy Award for her work in "Jezebel" August 1, at the Cameron Theatre in Columbia's "The Lady and the Mob." Ida Lupino is featured with the actress whose recent screen record includes such films as "Yes, My Darling Daughter," "Quality Street" and "The Ahkansas Traveler."

In "The Lady and the Mob" Miss Bainter is said to possess a role offering her unique opportunity for a memorable characterization. She is seen as Mrs. Leonard, wealthy, autocratic ruler of her community. When racketeers invade her city, she goes to the police and then to the mayor. Both prove powerless against the insidious menace and Mrs. Leonard decides to take the law into her own hands.

Up until now her whimsicalities had taken such a form as having the elm trees that line her driveway moved back a few inches. But now, as she embarks on a double holiday of self-indulgence, with no one to say nay, she buys a bullet-proof limousine. She "gets herself" a "mob." Seated in her armored car, backed up by machine guns, she proceeds to prescribe for the underworld its own medicine.

What ensues has been hailed as fast, furious and funny. Miss Bainter is said to etch a characterization that will be remembered among the year's best. Miss Lupino, too, has an intriguing role, and shares the romantic interest with Lee Bowman. In the supporting cast are such tried and true comics as Warren Hymer, Henry Armetta, Spencer Charters, Tom Dugan, Brandon Tynan and Harold Huber.

"The Lady and the Mob" was directed by Ben Stollhoff. Richard Maibaum and Gertrude Purcell wrote the screen play, from an original story by George Bradshaw and Price Day.

Newspaper Story Is Always Screen Hit; Preview Picture Here Sat. About Writers

Find the loneliest girl in New York! That's the task the leading columnist of the Daily Chronicle sets for himself in 20th Century-Fox's "Inside Storey," the exciting film of a "lonely heart hunt that turns into one of the most sensational news stories of the year!"

Where but in New York City would the most lonesome people be found? There are more people hungering for comradeship where there are only a few cubic feet of space for each citizen than in open country where there is a square mile per capita and neighbors living 40 miles apart borrow sugar and the lawnmower from each other.

Columnist Michael Whalen sees this demonstrated with startling emphasis when the replies to his journalistic search begin pouring in. Literally snowing under in the postal blizzard, he desperately picks one of the girls—Jean Rogers.

Michael is an excitement-seeking reporter who takes the solving of mysteries as part of the regular routine of his job, so it must have been a real "nose for trouble" that made him pick Miss Rogers. She is a night club hostess who has witnessed a murder and is anxious to be left alone. "The loneliest she is, the better off she'll be," quips Newsphotographer Chick Chandler, who, as Whalen's side-kick, brings a rare sense of humor to an occupation that finds it mighty welcome.

As the situation develops Whalen begins to have qualms about the supposed peace and quiet of the columnist's job as compared to that of the "leg man," or reporter. Is his choice the loneliest girl in New York, or is she Broadway's most dangerous woman?

Preview feature at the Cameron Theatre, the film is based on a story by Ben Ames Williams. Jerry Cady wrote the screen play which includes Douglas Fowley, John King and Jane Darwell in the cast. Ricardo Cortez, in his debut with the megaphone, directed.

His home is in Corsicana. Here is a poem taken from his first book this week autographed for the Herald Editor:

GIT UP BUDDY

When yer friends, fersake an' leve ye Standin' lone and beaten sore;
An' yer conscience sort ' hurts ye Cause ye've fallen down once more.

Seems th' worl' is allus slappin' Hittin' hard and hittin' low
Every time ye get to nappin' Some one slips, a nasty blow;

Sends ye sprawlin', weak and groggy Down to hit the mat o' sin
There ye lay, yer eyes all foggy, Wond'ring how to rise agin.

Wond'ring if the ones about ye Care enough to lend a hand
Or, are standin' by to clout ye When ye try to rise agin.

Shake yer head, an' get up, buddy Show the world ye've got some pluck,
Keep yer soul inside yer body, Look ahead fer better luck.

Sure, an' that's the way, now mind ye Don't get tumbled any more Never let a feller find ye Lyin' flat upon the floor.

Of much interest to friends here and in other sections of the state was the marriage of Miss Dell Horstmann to Henry Siebman on Saturday evening at 7 o'clock at First Methodist Church. Rev. A. J. McCary, pastor officiated before an altar with a background of palms and basket bouquets of lace fern, white carnations, chrysanthemums, and feverfew with a floor basket of carnations and chrysanthemums on each side. Front seats on both sides of the church were marked off with white ribbon for families of the bride and groom. Mrs. Alec Triggs sang "O Promise Me" with Miss Katherine Monroe at the organ. With Miss Monroe at the organ, the bride and groom entered together to the strains of Lohengrin's Bridal Chorus. During the ceremony the organ softly played "Tiumerei." The bride wore an afternoon frock of white embroidered chiffon, white accessories and white turban with carnations. The groom wore a white suit. For the recessional Mendelssohn's Wedding March was played. Boyd Chamberlain and Make McDermott, both dressed in white, served as ushers. A large number of relatives and friends were present for the wedding. Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents at which time the beautifully decorated wedding cake was cut and served with punch. For her going away dress Mrs. Siebman wore a black and white ensemble with white chiffon blouse and white accessories. She carried a beautiful bouquet of orchids. The groom and his attendants were dressed in white suits. The bride's four attendants were dressed in pastel shades of chiffon with picture hats and corsages of orchids to match. A reception was held later for many friends and relatives of the groom. small South American seaf port where everything, including a tiny commercial air line, is owned by a lovable character, "The Dutchman," played by Sig Ruman. The air line is operated by Grant, who has gathered a group of reckless, restless pilots to carry the mail over the fog-covered Andes. Jean Arthur, the girl, falls in love with Grant. Her love is not reciprocated because the flier feels that women and the sky do not belong together.

During one of the treacherous fogs which make flying in this spot an additional hazard, one of the pilots crashes and is killed. The Dutchman replaces him with Barthelmess, seen as a renegade aviator who bailed out during a test flight and allowed his mechanic to crash to death. The mechanic's brother, Thomas Mitchell is one of Grant's men. To complicate matters further, Barthelmess is married to Miss Hayworth, the girl who jilted Grant in the States.

...but anyway, we're thinking that a lot of folks are going to find it mighty comfortable to break their vacation trips this summer with stops at Humble Service Stations ... What with the two Fairs and all, we're expecting a lot of vacation travelers, and we've provided everything we can think of to make their trips more comfortable ... You know what a Humble Service Station is: you've heard how clean the rest-rooms are—maybe a neighbor told you if you haven't found out for yourself; anyway, they're reason enough to plan your stops where you see the Humble sign ... But they're not everything, not by a jugful! There's an abundance of refreshing ice water waiting for you. There's cool shade, a stretch of green lawn, a glimpse of bright flowers ... And last, but far from least, there's a friendly greeting and a cheerful goodbye from a neatly uniformed, courteous station salesman who renders you a service that's prompt, trained and genuinely helpful ... So, when you plan your vacation trip this summer, also plan to stop and stretch your legs where you see the Humble sign!

prevalent in this part of the United States. In the home of the patient, a boy, Dr. Newton found a bug similar to the old Texas blister bug and through a series of experiments in his laboratory found this bug to be a carrier of sleeping sickness germs. This discovery created a mild sensation and led to a broad study by the State Health Department. Dr. Newton was applauded for the information brought in this address.

The club will appoint a committee of three to tender co-operation with the Chamber of Commerce or any other organization to sponsor an eradication campaign in the city of Cameron to circumscribe typhus fever possibilities. R. J. Therman of Waco, traveling freight agent for the Santa Fe Railroad, was a guest of W. DuBois, local Santa Fe agent. Ray O'Neill, district court stenographer, was a guest of Dr. W. R. Newton for the luncheon hour. R. W. Hester of the Community Public Service Company was introduced by President J. B. White as a new member for the club. He has been assigned for duty to the committee on club publication.

SOFT BALL LEAGUE BLOWS UP

At a meeting of the managers of the four teams and representatives of the band parents association, it was decided to cancel the remaining games of the soft ball league schedule and quit. This decision was reached because of the lack of interest on the part of the citizens of Cameron in the games played. The league was sponsored by the Band Parents Association and all gate receipts went to the support of the Yoe High School Band, but it was found that the receipts were not sufficient to pay the running expenses of the league.

Mrs. Buck Bonds is spending a few days in Dallas and Fort Worth.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Schiller, married in Dallas Monday, July 10, have returned to their home in Cameron after an extended wedding trip that took them to Mexico City, Monterey, and other interesting cities in the Southern Republic. The happy couple arrived in Cameron Friday and Mr. Schiller was at his place of business Saturday morning receiving congratulations of his many friends. He tells many interesting incidents of the wedding trip to Mexico stating that the winter season is now on in Mexico City and overcoats are being worn. The temperature ranges well above 100 degrees in Cameron. The value of Mexican money has so depreciated that for each dollar of American money, one receives $5.65. "Changing a twenty dollar bill in Mexico," said Mr. Schiller, "gives one the feeling that he has an abundance of money and some of the bills are almost as large as the Daily Midget." A complete account of the brilliant wedding which occurred in Dallas will be published in the Herald next week.
